CSIS 110: Principles of Computer Programming I

Introduction to problem solving using computers. Topics include top-down design, algorithm development, information representation, and programming. Assumes a basic knowledge of PC operation.

Credits: 3
Program: Computer Science
Semester Offered: Fall