

EDUC 322: Child and Adolescent Psychology

An overview of the physical, mental, and emotional phases of human development during childhood and adolescence. A study of the environmental and educational problems of the teenager. (Also taught as PSYC 322)

Credits: 3

Program: Education

Semester Offered: Spring