

Individual Study Topics

Offers an individualized opportunity for students to research a specific topic with direction from the instructor. Students desiring to enroll in an Individual Study Topic course must submit a signed Individual Study Topics form, available on the university website, to the Vice President for Academic Administration. All requests must be approved and submitted to the Records Office by the last day to add a class. Eligibility for Individual Study Topics requires a 3.0 GPA in the proposed area of study, a 2.75 cumulative GPA and appropriate class standing or permission of the instructor. All requests must be approved and submitted to the Records Office by the last day to add a class.
