

COMM 461: Investigative Reporting

This capstone journalism class prepares the student for work as an investigative reporter or a serious magazine writer. The course focuses on the development of interviewing skills, learning to access police files, online research, access to data via the Freedom of Information Act, and collaborative team research. Writing is extensive.

Credits:

3

Prerequisites:

COMM 361

Program:

Communication

Semester Offered:

Fall, even years