

ENGR 111: Introduction to Engineering and Design

Introduction to the profession of engineering, computer based engineering, calculation tools, analysis of team dynamics, the design process, systems engineering, and principles of project management. This is taught via distance learning from Walla Walla University, Edward F. Cross School of Engineering.

Credits:

2

Program:

Chemistry and Physics

Semester Offered:

Fall