

KINT 310: Motor Learning

Students will develop the ability to analyze motor behavior in a physical education or clinical setting, create solutions to motor problems, and coach athletes and students to better performance. Class includes laboratory activities, critical readings and a research study.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites:

BIOL 101

Program: Kinesiology

Semester Offered: Fall, odd years